

INFORMATION

December 2006

Rhema now adds IT training to its broad range of consultancy and training via strategic link with Enliten

Rhema Group has linked with Enliten Training Solutions in a strategic partnership which brings together two well-established and respected providers in the field of HR development.

Each organisation has over 20 years of experience and knowledge in its particular area. Rhema has an enviable reputation as a UK-based, globally operating, human resource development company and a provider of customised and blended solutions involving business consultancy, training, coaching, software and E-learning.

Enliten IT is a vendor independent IT training services business and is a Microsoft Registered Partner delivering courses covering not only Microsoft but also Adobe (Macromedia), Lotus, Quark, AutoDesk, Corel, Business Objects, CheckPoint and Oracle among others. The aim of the company is to provide a wide range of quality, value-for-money, training solutions to enable businesses to become more efficient and competitive. This involves the creation of clearly designed, relevant and focused tailored training solutions that meet the specific needs of both customers and partners.

“This strategic partnership has the significant effect of enabling us to include full IT training in our packages for our clients,” said Rhema MD Jeremy Francis. “Rhema never relaxes in its efforts to keep its tailored solutions in line with the needs and expectations of organisations which want to offer fully tailored training packages to their management and staff. We are already bringing Enliten into our client offering and look forward to that continuing in future, and vice versa.”

Recognising that staff training and skills development are fundamental to the growth and development of businesses, Enliten takes a flexible training approach using customised solutions. The four core areas pursued by the company are IT Training for end-users; technical network support staff and developers; design of Access databases, Web sites and Microsoft Office templates; Consultancy & Support for Network and Infrastructure services; and Soft Skills, within HR development programmes.

Enliten MD Marko Jergic said: "We have been providing ad-hoc soft skills services to our clients for some time, both at corporate level and for SMEs. This strategic partnership now allows us access to a far greater portfolio of services that can only be of benefit to our clients. Rhema is a like-minded organisation and we look forward to working closely with them."

Contacts....

For further information and interviews contact Terri Anderson

T: + 44 1494 565864

M: + 44 7802 872346

E: hq@rhemagroup.com

December 2006

Notes to Editors

The Rhema Group www.rhemagroup.com is a highly respected and well-established UK human resource development company which also operates globally. Founded in 1985 by MD Jeremy Francis, Rhema (a name derived from the Greek for inspired word) has won a solid reputation for innovation, quality and reliability of delivery of people development and performance.

Focusing on Talent Development, Management Development, Performance Management, Sales Training and Skills Development, Rhema provides on a 24/7 basis customised and blended solutions involving business consultancy, assessment/psychometrics, training, coaching, software and E-learning (via internet and client intranets).

Rhema Group includes a roster of talented and experienced UK consultants, and through 15 international partners of best practitioner status in Europe, USA, South Africa, Australia and S.E. Asia, Rhema delivers proprietary products and services globally in a variety of languages - in particular to multinationals looking for high quality, customised and consistent international roll-out of centrally mandated people development programmes and assessments. Clients include Microsoft, Société Générale, Reed Business Information, BOC Group, International Financial Data Systems, Institution of Civil Engineers and leading Dutch vendor lease organisation De Lage Landen

Enliten IT www.enliten-it.com prides itself on providing quality value for money solutions, via very high quality trainers and consultants who are technically adept within their areas of expertise as well as being versed in educational methodologies - thereby ensuring that clients' staff get the most out of their training experience. The trainers are members of the Institute of IT Training (IITT) - the main standards body for IT Trainers in the UK covering all aspects of training, development and delivery. All are fully vendor authorised, having passed their trainer assessments e.g. MCT (Microsoft Certified Trainer); MOS Master Instructor (Microsoft Office Specialist); CLI (Certified Lotus Instructor) as well as their product exams. Each trainer has a combination of certifications depending upon their skill sets, and additionally has practical knowledge of real life scenarios which adds value to the classroom experience. Enliten IT has trained customers throughout the UK, in Switzerland and Hong Kong. It provides a wide range of on-site technical training courses which can dramatically cut down on time spent away from the office and on money spent in travelling and overnight expenses. On-site services include migrations and rollout training, based around Microsoft, Adobe, Macromedia, Lotus and bespoke in-house systems.